From the Daily Mail. At a meeting held at the home of Miss Bertie Andrews, corner of Fourth and F streets, yesterday afternoon, a reorganization of the society of Merry Maids was affected. Officers were elected as fololws: Ida Van Horn, president; Mayme Hoge, vice president; Louise Ziegler, secretary, and Blanche Van Horn treasurer. It was decided to have entertainments this year of a literary and musical-social nature, alternating with one another. Toward the close of the evening Miss Andrews served her guests with a dainty collation. The gathering was a very pleasant affair in other ways. Those present were the Misses Ida and Blanche Van Horn, Mayme Hoge, Louise and Ada Zieger, Georgia Stipp, Elia Patton, Tacy Graff, Eva Hibbard, Mary Purcell, Meta Showalter and Bertie Andrews.

From the Daily Courier. "You are a liar," said Attorney C. T. Atkinson in the district court to Captain James McDermott who was on the witness stand and had just answered a question asked by Mr. Atkinson, "You are another," replied Captain McDermott and then the court took a hand. "You gentlemen step over here and pay the clerk ten dollars each, and perhaps by that time you will be cooled off a lit-'ie," said Judge Burnett, and they paid It. Captain McDermott was a witness in a case in which he was interested and Mr. Atkinson was one of the attorneys. Unplain McDermott took exceptions to some of his questions and in reply to one answered "It is none of your business," which put Mr. Atkinson on his mettle and the fun commenced. Nothing has been heard from Captain Arnold, and it seems probable that he never intended to return, or if he did, that he has abandoned the idea since teaving Hutchinson a week ago. Captun Arnold, it is understood, feels that to assume the great resposibility which falls upon the superintendent of the Reformatory, he should have the instituion turned over to him. To attempt the work and have nothing to say about who should fill the subordinate offices, was not a pleasant undertaking. The probability is, so far as can be learned, that Captain Arnold has done with the institution and will not return. Some time ago a friend of mine recommended your famous Sparagus Kidney Pills for pains in the back and head, but I took so many remedies and found no relief I did not feel like spending any more money for other kinds of medicine. I was at last persuaded to try your famous remedies, and I am glad that I did. CHILDERSBURG, ALA., March 7th. 1897.

Until I received Wine of Cardui I had never passed a monthly period without pain. I have taken one bottle of the Wine of Cardul and I feel well already. When I got the medicine the time for my period was passed and Wine of Cardul brought it on at once. And I didn't feet a pain. I seem like a different person. PRISCILLA NICHOLS.

HELENA, ARK., March 5th, 1897.

I have been almost an invalid for five years. A few weeks ago I commenced to use McEiree's Wine of Cardul and Thedford's Black Draught. One bottle of the Wine has certainly made a different person of me. After all those years of suffering a few days of this treatment has put me in almost perfect heakh. MRS. JANE EDWARDS.

LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT.

These letters show how unnecessary, how foolish, it is for women to suffer day after day, year after year. Here are women who had been invalids for years, restored to perfect health by a few days treatment. Thousands of such cases are reported. Women who have never seen a painless menstrual period say: "Wine of Cardui gave me complete relief." Others write: "I was gloomy and despondent from so much suffering, but Wine of Cardui has made me well and happy,"

For everything that comes under the head of "female troubles" Wine of Cardui is the best remedy. It cures "whites", falling of the womb, irregular and painful menstruction. It fits a woman for the duties of wifehood and motherhood. It brings children into homes barren for years, For semi-invalids who have headache, backache and nervousness almost constantly it comes as a priceless boon. No woman need suffer all the time. Wine of Cardui will bring her health and joy. $1.00 at the drug stores.

agents to show their lines at value. There is a decided disinclination to make prices shown on all hands. Ginghams are active with the manufacturing trade. Woolen goods of nearly all grades and lines have dropped back to inactivity. The cheaper grades are more readily salable, but reorders for fall grades are very slow.
